

DAY JOBS AND THE NIGHTLIFE

MONTREAL ▾

CULTURE ▾

SCENE

BLOGS ▾

CONCIERGE

BLOGS > LE RENOIR OUTDOORS

A Hidden Paradise

Last week Le Renoir, the fabulous house restaurant at the swanky Sofitel Hotel on Sherbrooke, unveiled a refurbished and delightfully refreshing courtyard terrasse to a select group of Montreal's media and VIP guests.

Though the terrasse covers a lot of ground, the best part is tucked away in an enchanting little sunny corner and guarded from the elements by the surrounding goliath buildings. The air on the terrasse is fresh and infused with the savoury scents of home grown herbs. The terrasse is truly unique with these herb gardens at the centre of the seating area. Strings of little white lights dot the uncovered space at night creating a cozy atmosphere.

We enjoyed refreshing rosé, freshly barbecued canapés and charcuterie all evening and stayed well past sunset. The staff enjoyed themselves as much as us as they competed in fun foosball games and entertained us all evening.

© 2014, Day Jobs and the Nightlife

Finding a haven like this, downtown, isn't always easy but getting away from the bustle and the traffic isn't that difficult after all and with Renoir's terrasse I have found one of my new favorite places in the city.

Photo credit: David Major-Lapierre

1155 Sherbrooke West Montreal

514-285-9000

<http://www.restaurant-renoir.com/>

BLAIR DOHEY

June 5th, 2014

Blair Dohey knows a thing or two about day jobs and the nightlife. For over ten years he has been inadvertently researching bars, cafes, pubs, clubs, restaurants and everything in between, all so that he can bring a refined selection of amazing places to those who want to have a great night out after a long day of work.

You might also like:

MODAVIE BISTRO

À La Modavie

DOWN THE AVENUE

Even the hottest spots cool off with time.

FRIENDLY SPIRITS

Spirithouse Opens in Montreal!

DAY JOBS AND THE NIGHTLIFE mixes reviews and blogs with featured articles about cool people and hot places so you can have a smoother transition from your day job to your nightlife. Keep coming back for more.

CONTACT

514.835.2920

hello@dayjobsnightlife.com